PERFORMANCE COMMENTARY

Global markets rallied through August on the back of cooling US inflation. The Fed's inflation vs. growth balancing act continued against the backdrop of a relatively robust economy, as avenues for continued inflation declines in the near term unfolded. Producer prices confirmed that inflationary pressures have peaked in a robust economy despite a technical recession. The labour market remains strong, suggesting voracious appetite for workers in industries struggling to keep up with pent-up demand. The uptick in consumer sentiment during August can largely be attributed to US households having accumulated $2.2 trillion (9% of GDP) of excess savings since the start of the pandemic. However, a hawkish Fed at the recent Jackson Hole meeting, meant markets ended the month lower.

The situation around the Taiwan Strait remains a key global geopolitical risk. In contrast to the last Taiwan Strait crisis, US intervention this time around will take place against the ominous presence of China's navy, considered the world's largest, and a strong Chinese economy. China recently cut its key rate by 10 bps to 2.75% while the People's Bank of China (PBOC) lowered its benchmark lending rates and stepped-up support for the property market with additional loans. More policy stimulus is likely and there is a potential for COVID-19 restrictions to ease further.

Emerging Markets continued to offer a better outlook despite the strong dollar, with some specific markets offering unique pockets of opportunity. India, which derives only 12% of its GDP from exports, has high projected growth in 2023. Indonesia, Malaysia, and Vietnam have shown resilience against imported inflation due to their favourable position of net food- and-energy exporters.

South Africa's energy crisis continued, with the private sector showing its mettle. Private sector efforts are slowly but surely demoting the state to the position of pure liability by increasing commercial generation of solar power 94% year-on-year to 826 megawatts in 2021, with another 54% of growth forecasted for this year. The ANC's economic transformation committee challenged the South African Reserve Bank's independence at the party's five-year policy conference around the end of July, suggesting increased engagement between National Treasury and the central bank on policy matters. However, Finance Minister Enoch Godongwana quickly shot this down. The FTSE/JSE CAPPED SWIX Index fell by 1.3%, Industrials were down 0.6% and Financials decreased by 2.3%. The JSE All Bond Index rose by 0.3%, while the rand depreciated by 2.3% relative to the US dollar.
